

Kate Fairlie

Surveying &
Spatial Sciences
Institute,
Australia

Nomination for Vice-President
2015 - 2018

Kate Fairlie

- Active in FIG since 2006
- Chair FIG Young Surveyors Network 2010 – 2014
- Co-written and presented FIG conference papers across Commissions 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 8
- Experience across Oil & Gas, GIS, Environmental Consulting, Land governance and development, Government and Academic sectors
- Lived and worked in Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia

Vision for FIG

- Remain the leading professional body for National Surveying Associations
- Continue to drive international surveying policy
- Strengthen partnerships
- Continue to drive and publish world leading research
- Continues to support and foster industry and corporate members
- Continue to promote the image of surveying internationally

Vision for FIG

- Continues to recognise and promote young surveyors
 - As critical to the present and future of the profession.
 - As valuable contributors now.
 - As those who will be held accountable for our actions now.

Some stats.

- Over 50% of the world's population is under 30
- In 2015 there will be more cellular connections than people

These are the people we are surveying for.

These are the people who will become surveyors.

What Google has to say about surveying

Experience

Conference coordination and development

- Second Young Surveyors Conference, KL, FIG2014
- Pacific SIDS Symposium co-coordinator, Fiji, 2013
- Inaugural Young Surveyors Conference, Rome, FIG2012
- Young Ambassador for FIG2010

Delivery of FIG Agreements

- YSN coordination of STDM Training of Trainers

Experience

FIG Representation

- Represented YSN at UN-Habitat World Urban Forum 2012, 2014; GLTN Expert Group Meetings on Youth; World Bank Annual Conference on Land & Poverty 2014, SEASC2013, ISPRS2012

Social Media, Communications and Promotion

- YSN Facebook has grown 1200 followers since February (now has 3700+ followers)
- YSN also hosts Twitter, LinkedIN, Youtube pages
- Close relationship with other Commissions, FIG Corporate sponsors and FIG Foundation

So what do I bring to the table?

Innovative ideas

Broad exposure across ALL Commissions

Close relationship with FIG Office

Extensive, diverse experience

Young surveyor linkages

Strong linkages to Asia, Pacific and Africa