Engagement Committee:

It is NSPS's pleasure to nominate Timothy W. Burch, PLS, for Vice President of the International Federation of Surveyors (FIG).

I am Linda Foster, PLS, GISP, MGIS, and the current President of the National Society of Professional Surveyors (NSPS). I have personally been working with Tim since 2021, when I joined the NSPS Board of Directors.

During this time, I have witnessed Tim grow and flourish in executive leadership at NSPS. He works tirelessly to advocate for the profession of land surveying in the United States. He has made it a goal to personally visit and engage with as many of our affiliate states as possible, delivering educational content, updates from our national organization, and supporting opportunities for emerging professionals, such as Young Surveyors Network (YSN) engagements. I have also watched him lead at the international level as Chair of Commission 1 for the International Federation of Surveyors (FIG), serving on the Council and representing the United States in the international surveying community.

His role is ever-evolving as the Executive Director of NSPS, as the needs of the profession and consequently the organization continue to change and evolve at a rapid pace. He responds to these challenges with energy and a can-do spirit, continuously bringing fresh ideas forward, and is willing to try new things to support and move the profession forward.

As a second-generation surveyor, Tim has been committed to the surveying and geospatial professions throughout his career. He has worked extensively as a surveyor and has a deep understanding of the profession. He has also been a leader at the corporate level and in his state professional society, prior to ascending to national leadership.

NSPS is confident that Tim will bring the same energy and expertise to FIG that he brings to NSPS and will be a strong leader as Vice President of FIG, should he be elected.

Respectfully,

Linda Foster, PLS, GISP, MGIS
NSPS President
