Jouni Johannes Anttonen, Finland

Key words: surveying; comics; Donald Duck; Aku Ankka; Disney

SUMMARY

As a Finnish Surveyor in third generation and a die-hard Disney fan, Jouni Johannes Anttonen has always lived with surveying since he was zero years old and continuously been following Donald Duck comics since he was five years old. His presentation introduces the whole spectrum of surveying science-related issues published in Finnish Donald Duck (Aku Ankka) comics, from tachymeter surveying to property valuation, aerial photography to land use planning, GPS to land titling, precise levelling to utilisation of maps for decision-making and beyond. Every Surveyor is welcome and encouraged to attend the entertaining show to relax a bit in the middle of the jungle of hundreds of slightly more scientific papers' presentations!
